A TEST EXPERIMENT.

Peculiar Power Possessed by a New Medicine.

Of new discoveries there is no end, but one of the most recent, most remarkable, and one which will prove invaluable to thousands of people, is a discovery which, it is believed, will take the place of all other remedies for the cure of those common and obstinate discuses, dyspepsia and stomach troubles. This discovery is not a loudly advertised, secret patent medicine, but is a scientific combination of wholesome, perfectly harmless vegetable essences, fruit saits, pure pepsin, and bismuth.

These remedies are combined in lozenge form, pleasant to take, and will pre-serve their good qualities indefinitely, whereas, all liquid medicines rapidly lose whatever good qualities they may have had as soon as uncorked and exposed to

This preparation is called Stuart's Dys-pepsia Tablets, and it is claimed that one of these tablets or lozenges will di-seat from 209 to 2.000 times its own weight of meat, eggs, and other wholesome food. And this claim has been proven by actual experiments in the following ten-minute by actual experiments in the manner; A hard-boiled egg, cut into small belds. The Party in Good Shape-Joint Discussion in Patrick County-Harvey and Shelor Meet-Pretty Lively

KING WILLIAM COURTHOUSE, VA. house. The news that Congressma Lamb and Mr. Jefferson Wallace would address the voters, brought an unusually large crowd of citizens to court.

There being but little business of im portance to engage the attention of the Court, Judge Gwathmey gracefull yield ed the court-house to speakers about ed with voters, but there were persons standing at each window.

Mr. Thomas H. Edwards, Democratic nominee for floater delegate from this county and Hanover, presided and open ed the meeting in a straightforward, manly talk, that made a fine and lasting impression.

Captain John Lamb, who was first in troduced, discussed State Issues at length, and made a practical, well set-forth argument, showing why the people of King William should go to the polls and vote made reference in graceful terms to Kins William's distinguished sons, and re-lated a pathetic war-time incident in the life of Colonel Thomas H. Carter, showing in a fine light the heroism and magnanimity of that distinguished Confederate artillerist. Captain Lamb, in the course of his remarks, referred to some newspaper criticism of his course in connection with the May conference, and claimed that his action had been entirely consistent. He spake for an hour and a quarter, and greatly pleased

Mr. Wallace followed Captain Lamb in Mr. Wallace followed capital and alle and eloquent speech of about an hour. He sketched the issues of the State campaign with a broad, free hand, and paid a high and richly deserved compliment to both Mr. D. G. Tyler and Mr. Kdwards. He devoted some time to the discussion of national issues, making a particularly keen, though brief, analysis of the money question. He aroused much enthusiasm by declaring that the present season of prosperity was purchased by the blood of half-armed savages who were fighting for liberty. Mr. Wallace's address was forcible and vigorous, and was received with close attention and un-lailing interest.

Captain Lamb was busy during the afternoon mingling with his constituents, and both he and Mr. Wallace did some effective work on the court-green for the Democratic legislative nominees.

To-day's meeting has been one of the most interesting ever held here in an offyear, and the cause of Democracy has been materially helped. King William may be counted upon to give rousing maorities for both Hon. D. Gardiner Tyle and Thomas H. Edwards.

LIVELY IN PATRICK.

Joint Discussion Between Candidates for the Senate.

STUART, VA., October 24.-(Special.) crowd was in attendance. There was a joint discussion between E. J. Harvey, Democratic nomince for the Senate, and Shelor. The latter opened and confined his speech mostly to abuse of the election law, but he struck up that old familiar song of the Republicans—"Good times." his Republican opponent, ex-Judge P. W.

When the discordant notes of this workout tune had ceased, Mr. Harvey arose and was greeted with enthusiastic and prolonged appliance. He thusiastic and protonged applause. He said he was a Democrat and had always been one. He told the Judge that he (Shelor) was at first a Republican and was made Judge of this county by that party; then a Democrat, and because the Democrats had not elected him Judge, he again became a Republican, afterwards, hoping to be elected Commonwealth's Attorney, he again posed as a Democrat. Being defeated, he then changed again to a Republican. Mr. Harvey charged that several years ago the Eastern Lanatic Asylum sent Shelor a claim to collect of $1,000, against a man by the name of Joyce; that the Judge had brought suit and collected the money, and so reported to court; that the and so reported to court; that the money was not then paid over, and the asylum had to sue the Judge and sell his land before the money was paid. Mr. Harvey also charged that Shelor, when a candidate last spring for sold out and retired from the race for $100. When Shelor came to reply he stated that he had not changed his politics but three times, and admitted about the asylum money, but said it was only $600. He said he had received $100 last spring in reference to the clerkship matter, but it was a business transaction. Then, for some time he spoke of Mr. Harvey as being a native of Pittsylvania county, nd said that he (Shelor) was a native

Mr. Harvey, in his reply, drew the reon Judge Shelor about the Joyce, and claimed they showed that the amount was $1,000. Mr. Harvey, during ooth speeches was frequently applauded. Mr. R. T. Morrison, the independent lepublican candidate for the House, also ook the stand. He pitched into Shelor, ised him of being a gambler. This has een a good day for Democracy, and our eket is sure to win.

Politics in Bedford,

BEDFORD CITY, VA., October 24— (Special.)—At the moon recess of the County Court yesterday Mr. Graham Claytor, the Democratic senatorial normi-nes, faced a large nudbence in the court-house, and spoke for about three quarters attention, and emphasized the opinions as to the whole of the selection as senatorial nominee. Mr. Claylor was followed by Hon. Peter J. Otay, who made an address of about three genters of an hour, giving a graphic resume of the career of the Democratic party in national politics. Major Ctoy has a warm following in Bedford, where his fultiful work in behalf of the party and of his constituents, is highly appreciated.

Mr. George E. Morrell and Mr. William A. Gond, the nominees for the House of Delegates, were also present, interviewing the county sovereigns, but did not make public addresses. Mr. Hancock, the independent candidate for the House, was much in evidence, and expressed conviction of his election—a sentiment not generally shared.

THE RETIRED BURGLAR.

His Marvellously Developed Sense of Hearing and Touch.

(New York Sun.) "It is not riways possible," said the retired burglar, "to avoid making a noise in a house, which doesn't seem remarkable, when you take into account the fact that a man is all the time in strange houses, and more or less of the time in the dark; the wonder is that a man doesn't fall over something seventeen times in a night and rouse the whole neighborhood. A man's got his lamp with him, to be sure, but he can't be always fooling around with that; in his ordinary goings about he relies upon his sense of goings about he relies upon his sense of touch, which comes to be very sensitive. "A great help to a man in getting about is the fact that there is more or less samepess in houses in the arrangement of the stairs and halls, and things in general; he isn't an architect, but he has at least inspected a good many houses, and a glance at the start as a general thing will tell him how things. He And thing will tell him how things ite. Ar so, while he's got his lamp, he relies good deal on his senses of touch and hear-ing. I don't know, but it seems to me that I could feel a door, or a wall, or a that I could feel a door, or a wall, or a partition before I touched it, by the com-pression of the air between it and my shoe as I put my foot forward; and one is in a state of constant readiness to stop. And no matter how hard a man's hands might be, they are velvet-tipped as far as the sense of touch is concerned, and as yielding as willow. If he touches any-thing moyable, he rarely prosts it, though thing movable, he rarely upsets it, though he may sometimes; but the only wonder to me is, as I said, that he doesn't fall

"But while he is quiet himself, any noise, however slight, made by anybody in the house, he can hear with certainty; he comes to be very sensitive about that, too. If a man in a room overhead gets out of bed and stands up on the floor, you can feel him if you don't hear him. You know how boards that have been trodden down upon the beams that sup-port them swell up again if they are not walked upon for a time; the fibres of the wood spring back to their original form. Then when you walk on 'em for centrated on Ladysmith in the first in-stance, but General White and General the first time when they settle down, Symons had to yield to political actions. like this when a man, however quiet he might be himself, got up and stood on the floor. But if it was a perfectly firm cersary.

The news of unrest in Hasutoland causes some anxiety.

The correspondents who were taken prisoners in the train at Elandslaagts. The vibration might be so slight that it could scarcely be measured by any known means, but in your condition of sensitive-

"I really believe that in a frame house I could feel a mouse walking on a floor overhead. I don't mean a rat. Sometimes you hear a rat running across a floor; and CAPE TOWN, October 25.—A dispatch frem Klimberley, dated October 21st, and brought by a dispatch rider to the Orange river, has just arrived here. It says: floor overhead; and you can easily imagine that if a man should knock down anything in a house-anything whateverwhy, it would make more noise than an earthquake.

"I still have that sensitiveness of touch." "I still have that sensitiveness of touch, just the same; and, though I don't visit other people's houses at a late hour, as I formerly did, I find myself in my own house just as susceptible as ever to the faintest sound or jar."

Ostensibly to collect the poll-tax imposed by the Provisional Government, thirty Matasfa chiefs came into Apla, Samoa, recently. Two of their number were assaulted by a relative of Tamasese for a breach of etiquette, while passing the latter's house. Both factions prepared for hostilities, but, owing to the streamous efforts of the officials and friends of both sides, it was agreed that the differences should be settled in the native court, when both sides apologized. Speaking generally, matters in Samoa are quiet.

Captains Hogarth and Wrings and the Captains Hogarth and Wringe and the crew of the yacht Shamrock were at work yesterday packing the salls and coiling up the gear of the yacht ready to be shipped with the spars to Southampton about the time the Shamrock salls for the other side, which date is now set for next Tuesday, when the Erin will also be ready to go. At Prospect Hall, Brooklyn, last night, the captains and crews of the Columbia and the Shamrock were entertained by the Yacht Masters and Engineers' Association at a dinner and a smoker.
